Expunging Criminal Records

Disclaimer: This guide is intended as general information only. Your situation may have factors requiring different procedures or forms. If you need further assistance, consult a lawyer.

Click here to download this guide with step-by-step instructions for completing the forms.

BACKGROUND

What is an expungement?

An expungement reopens your criminal case, dismisses and sets aside the conviction, and re-closes the case without a conviction. In effect, you are no longer a convicted person. However, the case record itself will still exist, and the expungement will appear on your record.

Why would you want an expungement?

It can be difficult to get a job with a conviction on your record. Many employers must carry insurance on their employees, and insurance companies often refuse to insure employees with convictions.

What types of expungement exist?

There are three types of expungement:

1. The first, governed by Penal Code 1203.4, will expunge cases in which probation was part of the sentence.
2. The second, under Penal Code 1203.4(a), will expunge cases in which there was no probation.
3. The third, under Penal Code 17, will reduce a felony conviction to a misdemeanor. This misdemeanor can then be dismissed. If you received state prison as your sentence, you will need to file paperwork for a Certificate of Rehabilitation, rather than a Petition and Order for Dismissal.

Once my conviction is expunged, can I answer "No" to questions about convictions on job applications?

Legally, you may answer "No" to these types of questions. Keep in mind, though, that background checks typically go back 10 years, and employers can see that you had a conviction dismissed.

Answering "No" may look dishonest. A better response may be "Yes, expungement granted."

If you are applying for a government job, a job that requires security clearance, or a job that requires a government-issued license, certificate or permit, the conviction will be discovered during the standard background check. You should disclose the conviction and expungement in these situations.

If you are applying for a government-issued license, certificate, or permit, you must disclose your conviction and expungement.

How does an expungement affect strikes or other sanctions?

Although your conviction may be dismissed, the sanctions such as firearms prohibitions, exclusions from jury duty, or strikes, cannot be dismissed. These remain intact for life.

An expungement does not:

- Remove the conviction from your criminal history. California and FBI criminal history records will still show the conviction and the subsequent dismissal.
- Reinstates your right to possess firearms.
- Allow you to omit the conviction from applications for government-issued licenses.
- Seal the court case file from public inspection. The court file remains public record.
- Prevent the conviction from being used as a "prior" for sentencing enhancements in subsequent convictions.
- Prevent the conviction from being used to impeach your testimony if you are called as a witness in court.
- Prevent the conviction from being used to refuse or revoke a government license or permit, such as real estate license, teaching credential, security guard certificate, etc.
- Prevent the conviction from being used by US Citizenship and Naturalization Services for removal or exclusion purposes.

PROCEDURE

Should I obtain a copy of my criminal record prior to filing for an expungement?

Yes, you will need a copy of your criminal record or case information from each conviction you wish to expunge. Your criminal record or case history includes information essential to filling out the expungement papers.

To get case information for your post-1988 Sacramento convictions, visit <http://www.saccourt.com>. Click on "Online Services", then on "Case Index Program," and use the search engine to find your cases.

For a copy of your state-wide criminal record, visit the California Department of Justice at 4949 Broadway, Sacramento. There is a $35 fee for your criminal record, which may be waived if you are low income. You will receive your criminal record via mail.

Click here to download information on how to read your criminal record

How much does it cost to get a conviction expunged?

The maximum amount is $120, but many petitions may be filed for $60. The filing fee is based on the type of conviction to be expunged. Fee waivers are available for low-income petitioners.

Where do I find the forms for an expungement?

There are two forms you will need to expunge your conviction:

- Petition for Dismissal (CR-180) <http://www.courtinfo.ca.gov/forms/fillable/cr180.pdf>
- Order for Dismissal (CR-181) <http://www.courtinfo.ca.gov/forms/fillable/cr181.pdf>

These forms are also available at the courthouse, and at the law library from these books:

- California Judicial Council Forms Manual (Ref Desk KFC 995.A65 C25)
- West's California Judicial Council Forms (Ref Desk KFC 995.W45 C3)

Click here to download instructions for completing these forms.

Can I attach letters explaining my situation or my improved life?

It is often a good idea to attach a declaration stating why you want the expungement and explaining your situation in life. Letters from employers, clergy, or other community members can be convincing, but should not be attached to your petition. You may provide these to the judge at your hearing.

What is a Proof of Service, and how is it used in an expungement case?

In many counties, the court will perform service for you. In counties that do not provide this service, you will need to handle the service of papers yourself. You are required to notify other parties of the date and place of the hearing. After you complete your Petition and Order for Dismissal forms, you will file them with the court. The court will give you stamped copies of your papers, which must be served on the District Attorney and the Probation Department. You will then complete a Proof of Service form, and turn it in to the court. The Proof of Service tells the courts the specifics of how and when the DA and Probation Department were served.

Where do I file my expungement forms?

You will need to file your petition in the Superior Court for the county where you were convicted.

What if I fill out the forms incorrectly?

The forms will be returned to you, often with an explanation of what is incorrect. You may correct the petition and return it to the court. There is no additional filing fee.

Can I expunge multiple convictions at the same time?

Yes, you can file several petitions for expungement simultaneously. You will need to file a separate Petitions and Orders for each conviction.

What if I have changed my name since my conviction?

Fill out the forms with the name under which you were convicted. Sign the forms with your current name.

AFTER FILING THE PAPERS

What happens if the court denies my expungement?

If you attend the hearing, you may ask the judge what you can do to get your conviction expunged. You may re-file your petition for expungement in 3-6 months, after you've made the changes recommended by the judge.

What happens if I am arrested while trying to get a previous conviction expunged?

You cannot apply for expungement if you have any ongoing criminal proceeding, or are on probation for any criminal offense. If you are arrested after you apply for expungement, your petition will be denied.

How long will the expungement process take?

It will take anywhere from 3 weeks to 4 months, depending on how busy the court's calendar is.

The court finds from the records on file in this case, and from the foregoing petition, that the petitioner (the defendant in the above-entitled criminal action) is eligible for the following requested relief:

1. The court GRANTS the petition for reduction of a felony to a misdemeanor (maximum punishment of 364 days per Pen. Code, § 18.5) under Penal Code section 17(b) and/or for reduction of a misdemeanor to an infraction under Penal Code section 17(d)(2) and reduces (check one)
 - ALL FELONY CONVICTIONS in the above-entitled action.
 - ALL MISDEMEANOR CONVICTIONS in the above-entitled action.

| PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA v DEFENDANT: | CASE NUMBER: |

5. In granting this order under the provisions of Penal Code section 1203.49, the court finds that the petitioner was a victim of human trafficking when he or she committed the crime. The court orders (check one)
- the relief described in section 1203.4.
 - the relief described in section 1203.4., with the following exceptions (specify):
6. If this order is granted under the provisions of Penal Code section 1203.4 or 1203.41,
- The petitioner is required to disclose the above conviction in response to any direct question contained in any questionnaire or application for public office, or for licensure by any state or local agency, or for contracting with the California State Lottery Commission; and
 - Dismissal of the conviction does not automatically relieve petitioner from the requirement to register as a sex offender. (See, e.g., Pen. Code, § 290.5.)
7. If the order is granted under the provisions of Penal Code section 1203.49, the Department of Justice is hereby notified that petitioner was a victim of human trafficking when he or she committed the crime, and of the relief ordered.
8. If the order is granted under the provisions of either Penal Code section 1203.4, 1203.4a, 1203.41, or 1203.49, the petitioner is released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense except as provided in Penal Code sections 29800 and 29900 (formerly sections 12021 and 12021.1) and Vehicle Code section 13555. In any subsequent prosecution of the petitioner for any other offense, the prior conviction may be pleaded and proved and shall have the same effect as if probation had not been granted or the accusation or information dismissed. The dismissal does not permit a person to own, possess, or have in his or her control a firearm if prevented by Penal Code sections 29800 or 29900 (formerly sections 12021 and 12021.1). Dismissal of a conviction does not permit a person prohibited from holding public office as a result of that conviction to hold public office.
9. In addition, as required by Penal Code section 299(f), relief under Penal Code sections 17(b), 17(d)(2), 1203.4, 1203.4a, 1203.41, or 1203.49 does not release petitioner from the separate administrative duty to provide specimens, samples, or print impressions under the DNA and Forensic Identification Database and Data Bank Act (Pen. Code, § 295 et seq.) if petitioner was found guilty by a trier of fact, not guilty by reason of insanity, or pled no contest to a qualifying offense as defined in Penal Code section 296(a).
10. The basis for an order of dismissal granted under the provisions of Penal Code section 1203.43 is the invalidity of defendant's prior plea due to misinformation in Penal Code section 1000.4 regarding the actual consequences of making a plea and successful completion of a deferred entry of judgment program.
